

Dear Learning Ladder Families

Happy Spring! How did we get to March already? It has been such an awesome year to this point. Our students have grown so much mentally, physically, and emotionally.

This winter we focused on “The Environment and Me” including the unit topics; Where We Live, Transportation, and Light. We are currently in our Water unit and will then transition into our Plant unit. If any parents have a Green Thumb, please let your teacher know ☺. The students will be enjoying a Mad Science visit where they will experiment with dry ice and learn the different properties of water (solid, liquid, and gas).

Thank you to all the families that came out to our Virtual Family Workshop on Literacy and have also joined their classroom virtual family engagement activities. Please don't forget to come to our upcoming Family Workshop and look out for more upcoming virtual family engagement activities. Thank you to all those that attended the Parent-Teacher Conferences. Your partnership truly helps your child's learning journey. In order to better prepare our students and families for Kindergarten we will be hosting a Transition to Kindergarten workshop in May.

Important Reminders: In-Person

As part of our daily routines we will continue to go outside. Please dress your child with weather appropriate clothing. No Open-toed Shoes and please provide clothing that is weather appropriate and allows children to be freely active.

Continue to take the Online Health Screening upon arrival. Also, please inform us of any travel plans as there is a new travel guidance from the Governor.
